ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Economics and business are the basic for the overall development of the country which consists of all aspects of growth. Growth becomes development and development transformed into sustainable development. The concept of sustainable development formed the basis of the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development held in Rio de Janeiro in 1992. The summit marked the first international attempt to draw up action plans and strategies for moving towards a more sustainable pattern of development. UNO defined Sustainable development as development that meets the needs of the present, without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs. With these aspects, it consists of three major pillars such as economic, social and environmental development with 17 sub components which is popularly known as Millennium development goals. The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), otherwise known as the Global Goals, are a universal call to action to end poverty, protect the planet and ensure that all people enjoy peace and prosperity. The proposed international conference will focus on economic and business development with respects to various sub themes.
