About the SMRM

The Society for Mitochondria Research and Medicine, India (SMRM) is a nonprofit organization of scientists, clinicians and academicians. SMRM was formally inaugurated during the historical Indo-US meeting on "Mitochondrial Research and Medicine" which was held for the first time in India at CCMB from 22nd January to 24th January 2007.

The purpose of SMRM is to foster research on basic science of mitochondria, mitochondrial pathogenesis, prevention, diagnosis and treatment throughout India and abroad. SMRM acts as a forum to bring together the patients with mitochondrial disorders who need the care, the clinicians who diagnose and treat mitochondrial disorders and the basic scientists who are working in the field of mitochondrial research and medicine.
