About Sarojini Naidu College for Women

Since its creation on 14th of August 1956, with fewer than 50 students and very few teachers and staff, Sarojini Naidu College for Women, an undergraduate college, recently re-accredited 'A' Grade by NAAC, has evolved into a large multidisciplinary educational Institution providing quality education in regular and vocational streams to the thousands of students from the northern fringes of the city of Kolkata and its neighbourhood. Today after 50 years our mission of spreading education to the socially and economically backward and deprived section of the population continues and when we look back we cherish the unequivocal support and dedication of teachers and staff members which have forever strengthened our resolve to give our best to the society. Founded on the 14th of August 1956 as a college dedicated to the rehabilitation of refugees, Sarojini Naidu College for Women is one of the premier institutions for women's education in the northern suburbs of Calcutta. Initially affiliated to Calcutta University, it now enjoys affiliation under the West Bengal State University and offers quality education in Arts, Commerce, Science and Management streams. Apart from Honours and General courses in different subjects, the college also presently runs postgraduate courses in Bengali, English, and Psychology. The college is also running a one-year PG diploma course in counseling affiliated to West Bengal State University in collaboration with Diksha and 2 years three diploma courses in Karate and Self Defence, Muaythai and Self Defense, and Judo and Self Defence Course in collaboration with Indian School of Martial Arts (ISMA). SNCW is dedicated to the advancement of knowledge, learning and understanding in the service of society. The college has a dedicated and sincere faculty for whom the general well-being of the students is of utmost importance. By adopting a need-based approach, synthesis of academics and ethics, innovation in learning methods, and a diversified curriculum, the College aims at providing a learning environment that integrates body, mind, and spirit. The College is committed to the highest ideals of collegiate education. It aims at the development of each student and focuses on a comprehensive and balanced education. The college strives to inculcate ethical and moral values in the students and encourages them to become integrated and wholesome individuals capable of handling their careers and lives effectively.
